We are all meant to shine

You may have come across this quote before, but it's a potent one with an important message:

"Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure. It is our light, not our darkness, that most frightens us.

We ask ourselves, who am I to be brilliant, gorgeous, talented, and fabulous? Actually, who are you not to be?

You are a child of God. Your playing small doesn't serve the world. There's nothing enlightened about shrinking so that other people won't feel insecure around you. We are all meant to shine, as children do. We are born to make manifest the glory of God that is within us.

It's not just in some of us, it's in everyone.

And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same. As we are liberated from our own fear, our presence automatically liberates others."

Please allow yourself the space to ponder these words. Where in your life are you "playing small," afraid to let your magnificence shine?

What is your Soul urging you to do that your small, ego self has been telling you to ignore?

If you took steps to let your light shine, to become the Being you are here to be, what would be the gifts that you could give to others?

What is the world missing out on because you are not being yourself?

What steps could you take -- today -- that would honor this unique expression in your soul that you came to share with the world? We weren't all born to be super rock stars or captains of industry, but we each were born to be our own unique expression of Divine Source.

Time to get on with it.
